

The FCC should look into the fraud perpetrated on the American Public by CBS News' 60 minutes, using obviously forged documents as the centerpiece of a story designed to influence the course of the election by discrediting the president. This tactic is nothing short of an assault on democracy.